Unique Art Spaces

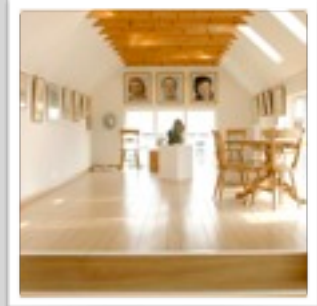

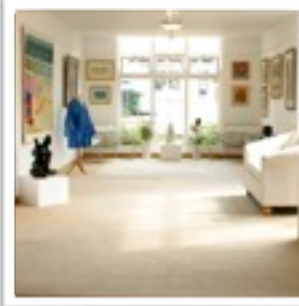

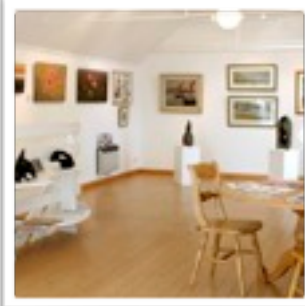

Welcome to our Spring Newsletter. This edition shows how much we do here at the gallery - so don't miss out on what's going on at one of the areas finest Art Galleries. The gallery is situated in the small village, Pakefield, just one mile south of Lowestoft the most easterly town in Great Britain.

Artists are always looking for new spaces in which to exhibit their work and here at the Ferini Art Gallery we play host to many of them on a regular basis.

Next year is a special year for us - why? - well we will be in our fifteenth year in the art world and are currently working on a calendar for 2014 entitled 'Artists Celebrate Lowestoft' to commemorate. We have chosen twelve artists who we know will represent Lowestoft's uniqueness in their paintings.

Great Britain's most easterly gallery - "visit our gallery and experience the unique art in this special setting."

Four unique gallery spaces - the best for miles around - well, so our visitors say.....! Come and see for yourself...

'Off the Hook': an Introduction to Creative Crochet

£35

Come and join us by the sea at the beautiful Ferini Art Gallery in Suffolk for a whole day of crochet. Learn the basics or brush up on existing skills in this informal, and informative class.

We will demystify doubles, trebles and double trebles, and show you how to read crochet pattern with confidence and skill.

The day will be led by individual requirements, and abilities, but the emphasis will be on creating beautiful, functional artifacts and accessories, using simple crochet techniques.

Crochet is right on trend this season, so why not make this your summer challenge?

ARTISTS – Peter Baldwin & Maggy Knight

Come and see this wonderful exhibition of work by these two diverse artists.

'Endings and Beginnings' (dearly beloved)' - oil on canvas - Maggy Knight

'Ship with Lovers' - oil on canvas - Peter Baldwin

Peter is a professional artist and has been painting for many years and is one of the Norwich Twenty Group. By the time Peter was fifteen his early talents as an artist were being recognised and nurtured by a local artist and tutor Jeffrey Camp R. A, who at that time lived in Pakefield and lectured at The Lowestoft School of Art - now known as The Seagull Theatre. Maggy Knight showed an early creative potential when in 1984 she too was guided towards becoming a member of The Norwich Twenty Group - where she met Peter.

Peter will be around on Saturdays throughout the exhibition for anyone wishing to talk to him about his work or art generally.

EXHIBITION - 3rd May - 3rd June 2013

<FEATURED ARTIST> ERIC SMITH

I like pushing my projects to an imaginary level so they end up as something personal to me. I belong to a turning club and we have a project set each month. When I know the theme my first port of call is the dictionary and work out my design from there. I start from the basic description and have no preconceived ideas and can go off in my own little world adding my interpretation to the design.

Ferini Art Gallery – Pakefield

FERINI PUBLICATIONS

Buy these 3 for £30

Ferini publications are a series of books designed and developed by Ferini Media dedicated to specific artists and their interests. These range from the immaculate line drawings of Don E Rose ('East Anglian Sketches') showing us unique aspects of the Suffolk countryside, to poetic pros of John Ward ('The Iron Bridge') which incapsulates the history of Lowestoft through the eyes of lovers from two sides of the bridge. Other books in the series are the delightful characters by Sam Capps ('Characters at Large') depicting the idiosyncrasies of peoples characteristics in a humorous way. Catherine Fiddy's 'The Jingle Jangle Girl' is the latest book which spreads happiness every where it goes...and even has it's own jingle too.

ADRIAN WINCUP

'Morning Light - Pakefield'- £160

Adrian has been painting professionally in the town of Lowestoft England since 1994. His talent shone through at an early age at school where one of the walls in the art class was known as the Wincup wall. Adrian has been exhibiting with us for many years and is very happy to take on commissions.

COMMISSIONS

We pride ourselves on having the very best that Lowestoft has to offer in the art world - so if you'd like to commission a painting of Lowestoft or of anything unique and special to you then call us now - our artists are waiting.

We also have cards from £1 & smaller items such as jewellery from just £6

BOOK READING GROUP

Meet once a month here at the gallery on a Sunday. Published author, Patricia van Stratum leads the group.

CREATIVE WRITING GROUP

The group meets once a week on a Monday. The course is lead by freelance writer Merriel Gardiner.
